

26. Scale to Measure Attitude of Banana Growers towards Drip Irrigated Banana Cultivation

Authors: Gulkari, K. D. and Chauhan, N. B. (2014).

Statements

1. I like drip irrigated banana (DIBC) cultivation as it saves water. (+)
2. I believe that DIBC is not viable for illiterate farmers. (-)
3. I favour DIBC as it reduces labour cost. (+)
4. I am not in support of DIBC due to the problems of intercultural operations. (-)
5. I think that irrigated banana cultivation is possible even for average farmers. (+)
6. I believe that DIBC is not possible to continue for longer period. (-)
7. I believe that DIBC helps to produce good quality banana production. (+)
8. I feel that DIBC is unworkable due to mechanical damage caused by rodents. (-)
9. I like DIBC as it helps in maintaining low weed infestation. (+)
10. I hesitate to go for DIBC due to frequent mechanical damage. (-)
11. I feel that DIBC requires less input. (+)
12. Investment on drip irrigation system for banana cultivation is wastage of money. (-)

Value of Reliability: 0.76